Amazingly, there has been a rise in support for the man who has been on a one-man mission to convince the world that Islam is a peaceful religion and that all Muslims are peaceful people. Really? If that is the case, why would anyone who is concerned about the law of the land that calls for the death penalty for those who perform acts like what we saw in Garland Texas on May 3, 2014, be concerned with a supposedly peaceful religion? As I wrote and shared on September 24, 2017, "It is clearly time for "peaceful" Islam to be stopped. That includes every Muslim who does not condemn and promote the ideology and direction of Islam. It also includes every Muslim leader who does not condemn and are not willing to speak out against the messages of the Quran, such as the teaching that Allah is going to kill ALL Jews, ALL Christians, and ALL Buddhists." Below is an article from Al Jazeera on an interview with Jihad Watch's Robert Spencer. The article suggests that the potential for a violent jihad is alive and well in the world and that in fact, it is growing because of the diversity of Islam in the world today. Does Spencer do a good job on the interview? I think not. However, I found the dialogue between Spencer and Al Jazeera somewhat rich. We have a link to the video as well as a link to an article on Jihad Watch about the interview. I think we are all asking the same questions about Islam, we just have different answers. Spencer has probably never read the Quran that Al Jazeera has in front of him
